DESCRIPTION

George Nelson introduced the Swag Leg desk in 1958. Since that day, it has remained a timeless design with bright, fun pops of color and boosts tons of functionality. Nelson was looking for a fun piece that featured beautifully sculpted legs. While designing this desk, Nelson had to figure out how to mold the legs into just the right curves. The outcome was beyond brilliant. His leg design became the focal point to his new collection which included an armchair, work table and dining table.

Our version of the Nelson Swag Desk features modern enhancements such as, a grommet for wire management and a storage shelf that can house most laptop sizes. The drawers include molded plastic removable organizers for all your office needs. Our version of the Swag Desk is very sturdy, featuring stainless steel legs and solid walnut trim. The bright dividers give your work station a vibrant pop of color against the solid white desk top. This desk puts the "fun" in functional.
